

US Navy Surface Warfare Officers lead operations aboard Navy vessels including aircraft carriers, cruisers, destroyers, amphibious warfare ships, and mine warfare ships. They use computers and advanced technology in battle and ship defense to keep military and civilians safe.

Fast Facts

- Median Salary: according to Navy rank
- Education: Bachelors Degree and/or training in NROTC or U.S. Naval Academy

Soft Skills

- integrity
- confidentiality
- analytical

Hard Skills

- engineering
- math
- technology

A Naval Surface Warfare Officer works to provide and coordinate air, submarine and surface ship defense.

Naval Surface Warfare Officer